

TENNESON WOOLF

CONSULTING

Leadership Facilitation | Coaching | Reflection & Writing

Participate Here

February 3-24, 2022

(Thursdays)

Wisdom Series – Forgiveness;

Weekly Themes = Anger, Grief,

Compassion, Grace

with Quanita Roberson

Read Here

Some Whyte for Winter

Offer Your Gifts

Harvest

Get Daily, Human to Human Blog Posts

Listen Here

Trauma: Finding Our Way – A Quanita and Tenneson conversation exploring some aspects of trauma, some helpful awareness, and some misdirects.

December Greetings

One of the things that I'm grateful for at this time of year is good friendships. They are friendships of play and laughter. They are also friendships of seriousness and inquiry. They are friendships of rest. They are also friendships of deep-dive sense-making.

As I enter the new year, a few prolonged winter days that will launch 2022 as a calendar year, I find myself wanting more celebration in 2022. Celebration of accomplishments, be they big or small. Celebrations of staying with needed but difficult learning, again be they big or small. Celebrations of very ordinary things. Celebrations also of very extraordinary things.

Here we are. Where we are is where we are. It seems a bit more fulfilling when to find all of this together — in friendship and celebration. With welcome of our continued connection to do all of that.